Dr. Breckinridge's Statement grossly abuses the confidence of the President, and deserves the abhorrence of whatever really loyal men may be able to live in Kentucky, after that policy has had its

LT.-GOV. JACOB, OF KENTUCKY.

I penitently confess that I was one of the people of Kentreky, who, through great blindness of mind, made Richard T. Jacob our Lieutenant Governor, at the same time that, with equal folly, we made Thomas E. Bramlette our Governor. I have borne my share o', these humiliations with reasonable compositions and mostly in silence. At present, it is Mr. Jacob that obtiges me to speak, and that in a manner which is extremely disagreeable to me, and which may not be particularly agreeable to him.

Mr. Jacob, let me say, was a person whom I barely knew, and whom I would have no moreove on earth either to ining or to ofno motive on earth either to injure or to offend. He had served the country for one year, I believe, in the army in Kentucky and had lost some blood, more or less, in some skirmish—which seems to dwell permanently in his imagination. But the people made him a Colonel to get him into service—and made him Lieutenant Governor when the service was over. Besides that, he has been fortunate enough to be very closely connected with my old friend, the late Thomas 11. Benton, and it was to be hoped had initiated some of his great qual-ities, which might become him better than ities, which might become him better than his violent manner of abusing those he disliked. Nor should I omlt to state—what may surprise the public—that he professed to be a follower of Christ and a member of the same denomination of which I am a minister. As far as I know, the original cause of Mr. Jacob's wrath against me was my strong expression of dissatisfaction with his manner of talking about arresting the progress, beyond Chattanooga at our the progress beyond Chattanooga of our army in the spring of 1864, by the destruction of its communications, by the butraged pro-slavery men of Kentneky. It is significant that this first idea of Mr. Jacob's dishnyalty was communicated to me on the memorable night about the middle of March, 1864, the same on which Governor Bramlette's wrath against me took its rise, from my opposition to his first proclama tion about the eurollment and draft of ue-groes, and in the presence of most of the same gentlemen—two of whom, at least, gave account of Mr. Jacob's violent and During the canvass which commenced in sort of uses to which some of our Kentucky Kentucky-after the adjournment of the Legislature in 1864, and extended to the Presidential election in November following—a violent, and I presume from the notorious facts of the case, as well as from some intimations of Mr. Jucob himself, a concerted attack was made on me—by a number of the most prominent supporters of the movement to carry Kentneky to, and in concert with, the Chicago Couventian, Mr. Jucob mentions, besides himself, Col. Wolford, John B. Huston, Mr. Ship-man, of the Louisville Journal, and Brutus J. Clay; his sense of delicacy, possibly, led him to omit the name of Gov. Bramlette. As soon after 1 perceived what was being attempted, as a proper occasion presented itself, I invited ex-Gov. Robinson—the representative of my Scuatorial District—an active canvasser, and reputed the ablest and most eloquent leader of the new moveand most eloquent leader of the new move-ment in central Kentncky, to meet me in Lexington, and discuss publicly, from day to day, all the issues before the people, as long as he sawfit, and the people would listen to us. I thought that the proper way to meet any combination that might exist against me; and that Mr. Robinson saw fit to de-cline the meeting, was certainly no fault of cline the meeting, was certainly no fault of mine; and that any other persons saw fit to persist in their attacks upon me, certainly persist in their attacks inpour me, certainly leaves it wholly to my own choice to determine in what manner, at what time, to what extent, and whether at all, I shall redress myself upon them, all and singular. If, therefore, it had been literally true—as it was utterly false—that I had procured the arrest of Mr. Jacob, Colonel Wolford, Mr. Shipman and Mr. Huston, I should have done no more than they all richly deserved—no more than the character of their lered Mr. Shir man the most disloyal and dangerous man of the combination. I knew nothing of any intention to arrest Mr. Huston, till after he was sent away. Colonel Wolford, who was arrested, as I supposed, by order of General Grant, was a man for whom I felt kindly, who was, in my opinion, first seduced and then betrayed, and who, when he comes to himself, will see many things in a very different light from what he has done. But my particular business, at present, is with Mr. Jacob.

Mr. Jacob published in the Louisville ty and ridiculous pretensions become a nere derision.

Journal, of November 3d, 1864, two or three columns of malignant and incoherent vulgarity, directed ugainst me, so far as the brutal epithets with which it abounded were concerned. The publication was, however, directed against the President of the United States as to the bulk and substance of it; and traduced him, as only a Chicago plat and tradneed him, as only a Chicago plat-form expert, ever traduces anybody. My share of slander then was, for being, as was said, a tool of Mr. Lincoln. It is only now, three months and more after the first pub-lication of that piece of Mr. Jacob, that I have read it. And most probably I never should have read it, but for a second publi-cation by him, which appeared in the Lou-isville Journal, of January 28th, 1865, of isville Journal, of January 28th, 1865, of which I will speak presently. For it is by no means my habit, to read, or to listen to, no means my habit, to read, or to listen to, abusive and insulting things, uttered of me by bad men. And in this case, besides what I have before said, I was, at the time, confined to my honse in Fayette, by a serious hurt, and was only able to be carried to Lexington on the 7th of November, to my voting place on the 8th, and to Danville on the 9th—where my winter's work is done. It was on the 11th of November, as Mr. Jacob asserts, that he was arrested in Oldham county; and my impression is that his arrest was several times spoken of, in my presence, while in Lexington, as having been ordered, while in Lexington, as having been ordered, or resolved on. But I had heard his arrest, and that of Mr. Shipman and Col. Wolford, so often spoken of in the same way, that it made no particular impression upon me. As I had taken no notice whatever, of his tucky. Calling himself loyal and Union unprovoked abuse of me in his stump speeches—and had been in no hurry to read his published abuse of me, while he was still at large—I certainly had no motive to do so, after he was arrested by the Federal do so, after he was arrested by the Federal authorities, or while he continued under arrest. He alleges in his second publication, that I caused Gen. Burbridge to arrest him, for his abuse of me in his first publication. The statement is utterly false in both particulars: false as to the fact, false as to the motive alleged. And it is as reckless as it is false—because Mr. Jacob himself has furnished the proof of nutrath, in both particulars. For while he asserts in his second publication, that I induced Gen. both particulars. For while he asserts in his second publication, that I induced Gen. In largant and bosterous nosting to its Burbridge to arrest him, and that my molive was personal vengeance for his abuse of me in his first publication; he asserts, just as positively in his first publication, that I desired and endeavored to have him that I desired and endeavored to have him.

The second piece of Mr. Jacob published in the Lonisville Journal, of Junuary 28th, 1865, puts me in the place he made the President occupy in the first place; and puts General Burbridge in the place he made me occupy, in that piece. It suited Mr. Jacob, before his arrest to make the President reefore his arrest, to make the President reponsible, and me his tool; but having as-ertained that arrest means release, much certained that arrest means release, much more frequently than it means punishment, it suits him now to make me principal, and Gen. Burbridge my tool. It is the same transactions, and the same parties, concerning whom these opposite accounts are given. As for myself, I know nothing of the action or wishes of the President, in Mr. Jacob's case—except what is stated in such published orders concerning it as I such published orders concerning it, as I have happened to see. The President's order of January 18th, 1865, which seems to complete Mr. Jacob's happiness and glory, complete Mr. Jacob's happiness and glory, permits him to return to Kentucky, nml remain there at large; refuses to decide any thing, "as to the right or wrong" of his arrest; and intimates something about "misunderstanding among Union men." The main use Mr. Jacob las hitherto made of this signal mark of executive clemency, has been to traduce the President in early and succeedes and he President in cards and speeches, and Gen. Burbridge personally and officially, in his second piece, after the special manuer of traducing Mr. Lincoln in his first piece. Me, since I denoniced his treasonable menace against Sherman's communication. tions, he never ceases to traduce; all he varies is the situation. My reply would be all the time, the same; inspeakable indifference to him, as an individual—but as Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky, and at the same time as eminently dangerous and antrustworthy, belief in the propriety of his arrest, trial, and proper punishment it found guilty. He says some one, in the absence of Gen. Burbridge—his Adjutant General, I suppose—telegraphed about the following: "Lient, Gov. Jacob was urrested at the instance of http://doi.org/10.1006/j.j.com/10.1006/j.j following: "Lient, Gav. Jacob was arrest ed at the instance of Dr. Robert Breckin ridge, on the charge of general disloyalty."

I heard that Gov. Bramlette was diligently circulating this seaudal, by word of mouth, in Frankfort, Ky.—as fresh from Washing-brame diving the group diving the group of the form of the form of the form of the first search of the form of ton—during the canvass there for Senator in the Cougress of the U. States early in Januagents, refugees, culprits, and office-seek agents, reingees, culprils, and office-seek-ing patriots, put the civilities they partake of and the runnors they pick up ubont Washington. But in this, as in the pre-ceding case, it is Mr. Jacob himself who furnishes the clearest proof of his own guilt. He says he never had any idea what he was arrested for; I suppose he never asked our desired to know. The moment he was arrested for; I suppose he never asked nor desired to know. The moment ac had the effrontery to connect my name with his arrest, he knew well enough what I denounced him for. Why did he keep as silent as the grave in all his speeches and publications concerning that horrible threat, that the outraged Kentuckians could easily defeat Sherman's glorious and decisive advance by destroying his communications? He foamed and raved like a maderage least hard suggested by the strong strong and many called presionate and called presionate rations? He foamed and raved like a mad-man about being called passionate and un-stable, and being told he had changed sides when he took up wilk Chicago; but not one whisper, nor one sign of recogni-tion, could this specification extort from him! I do not know what mumber or de-gree of charges or proofs Gen. Barbridge may have had on file against him; nor do I know what Gen. Burbridge or any of his staff may have telegraphed to Washington about him or my other culprit. But I do about him or any other culprit. But I do know that, in addition to them all, and in the midst of conspiracy to break up the Union party in Kentucky, and do infinite mischief besides—the history of which I have written and published; it came to my knowledge, as I supposed, by good testimony, that Mr. Jacob was reputed to be habitually talking about Sherman's expedition, in a manner the most perilous, violatically talking the most perilous and t ent and disloyal. Mr. Jacob speaks with Mr. Shipman and Mr. Huston, I should have done no more than they all richly deserved—no more than the character of their proceedings against me individually would tave justified me in doing—no more than the disloyal conduct of each of them--and especially of Mr. Jacob required—no more than the public authorities actually dil of their own accord. I considered Mr. Ship, last Angust for the destruction of the me. ast August for the destruction of the tion; and he saw it exploded on the 8th of November at the Presidential election. When he returned to the bosom of the Senate of Kentneky, he saw the one con-unmated between the "Kings, Lords and 'omnous" of Kentneky for the disgrace of eneral Burbridge exploded, as is reported, y some awkward handling at Washington ity. And he will see them all explode, in sneeession—and the contrivers of them ex-plode with them—and his own childish van-

There is one menace thrown out by Mr

Jacob, in his piece of January 28th, which demands the attention of the authorities. Taken in councetion with the whole drift of what he has done und said, including the wo of his late utterances which immedia precede and follow it-namely his card o the New York World, dated January 2th, and his speech on resuming his seat is presiding officer of the Senate of Kentucky, on the 4th of February; it can be understood only us a notice to the military authorities of the nation, that he is prepared and resolved to defy their interference with tim, and to resist their orders molesting in. If he means anything else, it must be hat Mr. Lincoln got wind of his savage intentions, and was prudent enough to grant all he demanded, rather than risk the con-sequences of Jacob's defiant return to Keu-tucky as un improvement on Vallandignam's secret return to Ohio. Ills words are:
It was my intention, if I had not received in unconditional release, to run the block-ide to Canada, and from thence to Ken-neky on the convening of the Legislature, to take my seat as the presiding officer of the Senate, where the Constitution of my State required me to be, and to tell General Burbridge, that in defiance of a military despot, I would do my duty." In one aspect, this mutter is thoroughly ludicrons. In mother, it is prognant with danger and mischief. With the most fatal principles and violent purposes constantly avowed, Mr. Jacob is released from urrest and taken his seat as President of the Senate of Kenhe utters continually seditions, disloyal and menacing language, in a country which is overrun by guerrillas, and where martial law prevails. The Senate, loyal and Union, receives him with the adulution due to one disloyal combination will push that party too far into hostility for it either to draw back or conceal its real intentions.

As for myself, why is it that for four years past, I have been continually assailed by the enemies of the Government, as if I were a public officer of the highest grade; con-tinually looked to by a large part of society as if I had the means, or authority, to de whatever I disapproved, from being done? I have held no office of any description nor have I made the smallest attempt to ge any office—nor have I shown the least de any office—nor have I shown the least desire to have any office. I have no power, no patronage, no means of benefitting any one, or injuring any one. A simple private citizen—I have been habitually treated by good men as if I was an important power in the State;—habitually traduced by had men as if I was, as a just ruler, a terror to evil doers. It is a result strongly indicative of our times our instinctions, and dicative of our times, our institutions, and the extraordinary events which are pass-ing over us. The words, the example, the particular acts, the general life of an un-protected citizen, come to be discussed in connection with the conduct of the Chief Magistrate of the nation, and the proceedings of general officers in chief command around him; while the great history he has helped to make, must make allowance to his presence to be fully understood. A' this is involved even in the ferocious attack made on us. And however it may upper to other men—t appears to me, I will confess, a greater and more remarkable thing than if it had pleased God to make my labors and my desires for my suffering country, effectual in some of the ways, the commonly appoints. There are, no doubt some grave inconveniences; one of which now endure. The President and the 15 n eral in command may not be allowed, by the proprieties of their condition, to take notice of such assailants as Mr. Jacob while the private citizen, whom the mos insignificant Lientenat Governor sees fit to traduce along with a President or a General may not always be considered at liberty to treat the attack with the contempt it de-When in the act of finishing this state

When in the act of finishing this statement, I received through the Post Office, "The National Unionist," of Lexington, of the 7th of February, wherein under the caption 'Headquarters Military District of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky., February 3, 1865," Brev. Maj. Geu'l S. G. Burbridge makes the following publication: "I have seen the publication of Lt. Gov. Javob! of Jun. 28th, in which Dr. R. J. Erektwirdge is made responsable for his wrest. I dead with his arrest. I alone our responsible for it as it was my act." What General Eurbridge here says, it was due to himself to say; and I never doubted he would say it. Iudependently of what he might say, the proof was conclusive against Mr. Jacob, and it was proper for our to robust it was proper for the coint it out. and it was proper for use to point it out. XASHVOLLE, Jan., 1805, 89 WEBSTER AND EVERETT-A DIFFERENCE WERSTER AND EVERETT—A DIFFERENCE OF ONLY TWO DAYS RETWEEN THEIR AGES AT THE TIME OF DEATH.—Daniel Webster was born January 18, 1782, and died October 24, 1852, aged seventy years, nine months and six days; Edward Everett was born April 11, 1791, and died January 15, 1865, aged seventy years, nine months and four days. The difference between their pages at the time of death was therefore. ages at the time of death was, therefore, only two days. The almost fraternal relation of these great men for so many years, during which either might have been proud of the other's position but for his own, was of a sort not often seen in public life, printers and payer chilled by life uninterrupted, and never chilled by selfish jealousies. It is beautifully refer red to by Mr. Webster in one of his letter-

to Mr. Everetl:
"We now and then see stretching across the heavens a clear, blue, cerulean sky without cloud, or mist, or haze. And such appears to me our acquaintance, from the time when I heard you for a week recite your lessons in the little school house in Short street to the date hereof."

The ignorance of English factory operatives is evinced by the testimony of a boyaged thirteen, a nailer, who last month desed as follows:

"Heard about Jesus Christ at the church school, but it's so long since that Pve for-got about him. Do not know whether he did miracles or wonderful things, or how he was killed; and have not heard of Noah and the flood. Jesus made the world in six days. The Queen has a name; it is Prince."

The fact of President Lincoln and Secre tard Seward meeting the representatives of the rebels on ship-board in the waters of the Chesupeake to talk over matters of peace is not without a historical precedent. Napoleon once met the Emperor of Russia and the King of Prussia upon a raft moored in the center of the river Niemen, a little below the town, June 25, 1807, and there signed the treaty of Tilsit, which put an all the allows and bloody war. end to a long and bloody war.

Dr. Breckinridge's Letter. We give this morning the Rev. Breekinridge's answer to the scurrilous slanders of our popinjay Lientenant Governor. What little there is left of that functionary after the exhaustion and drainage produced by his grievons wounds, and the stupendous displays of his patriotism since his unconditional release, will be badly ernmpled up by this rejoinder of the Reverend Doctor. The Doctor's earnest but temperate strictures upon the action of the General Government towards the Unionists of Kentucky will be read with profound interest by all who belong to that class. We do not, however, altogether share the Doctor's ap-Freh usion as to political reaction, and inreased embarrassments to Union men pending in the immediate political future of our State. The Providence of events, we |ed. a significant and important phenomenon. The latter can neither escape nor resist the pressure towards unconditional loyalty sition his exposed them. It is a tide that will cleanse have too much faith in the Divine origin and meaning of these changes to doubt their full and beneficent consumuation. We hok upon their progress with increasing trust and inward quiet.

Pious Rebel Mendacity.

The letter of Stnart Robinson to the President, which we published in yesterday's Prinss, is another illustration of the oft-repeated aphorism that the foundation and life of the rebellion are alike "A refuze of lies." Deception, cunning, and demaz gnery were the active instrumentalities in fomenting the rebellion, as they are also the effective means of keeping it up. That a man of Mr. Robinson's prefensions, talents, and standing in society should deliberately make the statements containe! in his letter to the President can be accounted for only on the hypothesis that he PRESS: is atterly deprayed or wilfully blind. He cortainly must have known that his falsehoods and his cunning would be exposed.

Take for example his charge against the Hen. Salmon P. Chase, Chief Instice of the United states. Addressing the President he says:

You have recently put at the head of the Supreme Court, chief interpreter of the Constantion, the committeeman of the Buffalo Convention in 1843-long before be days of "military necessity" and "slivery aggression"—who reported the ustrous resolve:

"That we regerd and treat the third cause of that instrument, (the Constitution II), whenever applied in the ease of a figures ave, as afterly null and void, and consequently as forming no part of the Constitution of the United States, whenever we are called upon as sworn to support it." Now every intelligent man knows that there is not a word of truth in this statement. It is either a deliberate falsehood on the part of Mr. R. or else it is the rep-itition of a falsehood hatched in the brain of some brother rebel. If any political convention was held in the city of Buffalo, in 1843, Mr. Chase was not present, and at the Free Soil Convention held at Bullalo, in 1545, no such "monstrous resolution" as the one cited by Mr. R. was reported either by Mr. Chase or by INT ONe clse.

Mr. Robinson takes special pains to inform the President that "Christ is the King of truth, and that his religion is distinguished from all others by its supreme regard for truth.

If this by the case one is sorely tempted to ask Mr. R., "Pray what has become of your religion, and what has become of the religion of the Reverend and irreverent leading conspirators and traitors that inaugurated and still keep up this wicked and causeless rebellion " The religion of Mr. R., as exhibited in his letter to the President, may be a very suitable and satisfactory religion for a Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, and v r satisfactory to the church itself, but loyal Christian people of the common sense sirt prefer the Christianity of the New Tes-

The Crime and Curse.

We have been a shown a letter from a prominent Missourian. In reference to the report that many are leaving the State from fearful apprehensions of approaching summer, he writes:

If these "fearful apprehensions" are entertained by loyal men, they are unfounded, and if by disloyal, they are well foundof our State. The Providence of events, we believe, will prevent it. We look upon the decided breach already taken place between the Jacob-ites and Bramlette-ites as invitigant and important photographics. The Providence of events, we believe, will prevent it. "The Public Convenience and Necessity." For the Union Press

I am glad to see Chancellor Pirtle bases his important decision in favor of the Louisville City Railway Company upon "the doctrine of the legislative power, well established now in the United States, to provide for the public convenience and necessity," however injuriously it must operate on some who have had charters for roads. bridges, ferries, &c. Judge Pirtle's following points are worthy of record in the

That though the act of '60 says, "No rail-road, except that of the Louisville and Portland Railroad Company, shall be constructed north of Main and west of Twelfth in Louisville," there is no consideration, cause, or reason mentioned for this restriction, cause, or reason mentioned for this restriction, and caralytic statements. tion, and surely the monopoly could not be granted to continue forever and be a mere celusion of the power of the Legislature exclusion of the power of the Legislature to give the right to make a road to any other person or corporation.

That if one Legislature should pass an act saying that there should be no more wharves within a mile of those existing now, or should declare that there should be no more roads in Jefferson county, these things could not bind the sovereignly in the hands of those thereafter intrusted with the hands of those thereafter intrusted with the public good; and this act of '60 is to be regarded in the same light.

That when a subsequent Legislature should repeal such acts, or make provision for the public, not regarding the restriction pretended to be made, the courts could readily decide the latter acts to be in pursuance of the proper legislative function.

That, though we admit that the act of 1860 gave the Portland Railroad Company the exclusive right to make all the railroads the public good might require, not the least ovement has been taken by them to make another road for the accommodation of the public, while the people of the city and the stranger public suffered very much because another and better road was not made; and this would have been ground enough to justify a repeal of the act.

That whether or not the plain reading of the act is that it was intended to restrict the city authorities and all future Legislatures from leaving any other road made, the Court could see no reason why a future General Assembly should be restricted and withheld from the necessary action for the growth of the city, as well as the convenience and the necessity, indeed, of the great public trade and travel up and down the rirey and across the river. The Press is the Official Paper of the United States for the State of Kentucky

THE DRAFT.-There is no authority for the statement in one of the city papers yes rerday morning that the draft had been postponed for thirty days. The 15th day of l'ebruary was the limit of the time granted in the President's proclamation for the States to fill their quotas, but Provost Marshals are not to proceed with the draft in their respective localities until orders are received to that effect from Washington Such an order, we learn, has not yet been received by the Provost Marshal of this District. We trust that when it is made known to the proper authorities that efforts are being made to fill the quota of the city by volunteers, with a good prospect of snecess, they will agree not to order the draft for thirty days, or a longer time if necessa-

ROBBERIUS,-On Monday night, the 6th lust., several men, in Federal uniform went to the house of a man named Fred Dersing, on the Seventh street road, near the Four-Mile House, and robbed him of about twenty dollars in money and a number of articles of value. On last Friday night another party in blue uniform visited his house and demanded his money, and, getting none, they took some things of small value and left. The same party went to the house of a man named Fitz, living on the same road, not far off. Fitz, being apprized of their approach, undertook to get away, for the purpose of alarming his neighbors and getting them together to protest themselves against the robbers, and was shot at three times. The villaius com mitted a mumber of rebberies in the neigh borhood the same night.

LARUT'S GREAT WAR SHOW, -Anothe large audience was present last night to witness the second exhibition of Larue's great war show at the Masonic Temple. It is one of the most interesting and novel exhibitions ever given in this city. It consists of scenes of the present war, with moving, acting tigures of men and horses; representations of battles, with moving bodies of men, and naval engagements, with moving vessels. This wonderful mechanism give a better conception of the reality of a battle or a naval conflict than anything, unles actually witnessing them. In the intervals between the scenes Mr. Larue gives humorous representations of character, which are not the least interesting part of the exhibi-

THE COST OF SELLING FRICTION MATCHES AND PERFUMERY WITHOUT THE PROPER STAURS .- A day or two since a prominant manufacturer of Matches, doing lusiness on Green street, was tined one hundred dollars and costs, which they promptly paid. Their offence was selling ten boxe of matches at 5 cents per box without the proper stamps.

A wholesale dealer in perfumery sold (nots of pomatum at 50 cents each, with only one stamp on each box, when two were required. He was fined ten dollars for each pot sold, making altogether sixty dollars fine and eighteen dollars cost. The revenue law is being rigidly enforced by the officers in this city.

LOUISVILLE THEATER.-The drama of "Dombey and Son" was produced last night to a good house. Though nusurpass ed in the representation of Irish character Mr. Florence showed by his personation o Capt. Cuttle last night, that Irish character is not the only line in which he excels. The character could not have been better ren dered, or to the better satisfaction of the audience. Mrs. l'Iorence as Sasan Nipper was very good, as she is in any character she undertakes. To-night will be present ed the beautiful drama of "Shandy Maguire; or the Wild Boy of the Mountains Mr. Florence as Shandy Magnire. The protean farce of "Thrice Married." Mrs Florence in four different characters, with songs and dances, is the after piece.

PETANTICHIE.-Kate Fuiley, living near the corner of Sixth and Chestnut streets. was arrested yesterday by Marshal Dillon charged with infanticide. She gave birth to a child tive or six weeks; go, and it hav ing disappeared in some nnaccountable manner, an inquiry was made into the mat ter, which resulted in finding the body in a sink in the back yard. The body of the child had been in the sink for some time, probably thrown there immediately after birth. The child may have been stillborn, and been disposed of in this manner with the hope of covering up the mother's shame. Hattie Jackson and David Sherei were arrested as accessories to the act.

THE TWENTY-FIVE DOLLAR SURSCRIP 110N .- A large number of persons appeared at the Mayor's office yesterday and subscribed to the general fund to relieve the city of the draft. The amount subscribed yesterday, up to five o'clock P. M., was $10,175; and the total amount subscribed, $14,950. The Mayor has authorized persons to recruit in different parts of the city, oftering the inducement of the additional bounty of $300 from the city. One officer reported seven men enlisted at his office alone vesterday. This looks very encouraging.

A man named Stephen T. Brown was arrested at Portland Monday night, by the Provost Guard, charged with disloyalty and on suspicion of being a guerrilla. Brown got drunk, and, illustrating the truth of the old adage, in viuo recetas, he expressed his opinious rather too treely for his own good, and said things which, in sober moments, he would more than likely have kept to himself. He was sent to Earracks' Prison, to wait an examination of his case by the Provost Marshal.

ger A man who gave his name as Wm. Johnson was arrested in Jeffersonville yesterday and brought to this city as a suspicions character. He was sent to Barracks' Prison to await a further examination, of Crawfordsville, Ind., are much excited n regard to a double murder committed in the southwest part of Montgomery county, and the Southern portion of Indiana and on Friday afternoon. The particulars are as follows: A son of Mr. Wineland, living at Tolono, Illinois, eame to see his father, a farmer living near Wineland, to obtain ome money of him. The old man refused o give him what he desired, when the son, n a fit of rage and jealonsy, as it is supposed, towards a cousin named Vancleve, to whom he believed his father had willed his property, took a gnn, and following the two, father and consin, into a cornfield, where they were at work, shot and killed them both. He then came to Crawfordsville, and it is believed, took the evening train north. One thousand dollars reward is offered for his arrest.

> SUBSTITUTES.—The new Enrollment bill row under consideration by Congress contains one much-needed amendment to the present law, viz:-that substitutes may be furnished from among persons enrolled and liable to draft. The enforcement of the contrary rule has largely helped to introduce into the service diseased, disabled, newly-imported, and, more than all, the bounty-jumping recruits who, under the late calls, have added to the number without adding to the strength of the army. The present law was based on a theory which has been shown by experience to work badly, and it ought to be amended in season for the approaching draft, or the improving the law.

> AFFRAY IN A BEER SALOON,-On Sunday evening Lientenant William S. Butts, of Company A, 55th Kentucky Volunteers, and Alexander Murray, a tireman on the Kentucky Central Rallroad, got into a quarrel at Arbeiter Hall, on Pike street, Covington, which resulted in a fight, during which Murray stabbed Butts in the left groin, producing a very dangerous, and it is feared fatal wound. Both of the parties are from Boone county; the former residing at Burlington and the latter ut Florence. Murray was arrested. The investigation of the charge against him will not be made until the result of Butts' wound is ascertained. Murray claims he acted in selfdefense.

WONDERFUL.-The Indianapolis Journal of yesterday says: "Last uight, while the tiring in honor of the adoption of the joint resolution ratifying the amendment to the Constitution of the United States proposed by Congress was going on, the telegraph operator at Jefferson ville asked the following questions of the operator here: 'Where is the tiring in the direction of Indianapolis? What is it for?' The operator at Seymour said the sounds were distinctly heard there. This is remarkable and speaks well for both the purity of the deed and of the air. The glad tidings resound and reverberate throughout the State and land."

ORDINATION AT CALVARY CHURCH.-The Bishop of the Diocese holds an ordination this morning at 11 o'clock, in Calvary Church, when the Rev. H. H. Cole, Deacon, Rector of Calvary, will be advanced to the priesthood. The Rev. Dr. Clarkson, of Chicago, has arrived in the city and will preach the sermon on the occasion. Also, quite a number of clergy from different Dioceses have visited this city for the purpose of being present and taking part in the ordination services.

AN INSTANCE OF COMMENDABLE HON-ESTY.—The Board of Eurolment of this District yesterday received a note from Jacob Schuster, grocer, on Market street, between First and Brook, saying that he had been exempted from a former draft on the ground of alienage, but that having since then taken steps to become a citizen, he desired his name again placed on the enrolment list, It affords us pleasure to record this fact as an example worthy of imitation.

ATTEMPTED RAPE. - A man named Jas) Connell was arrested yesterday by Otlieers Martz and Young, in the county, not far from the city, charged with an attempted rape on Elizabeth Oyler. His case will be examined before the Police Court this morning.

A PLEASURE.—On the north side of Main street, between Fourth and Fifth, at No. 425, is a very attractive display of gents' furnishing goods. The gentlemanly proprietors are Messrs. Harris & Rosenen, with whom it is a pleasure to deal,

The Mayoralty.

This subject is one which is engaging, to a greater or less extent, the minds of the voters of this city; and is one which the cit izens should thoroughly disense before the recipient of those votes.

Although detracting nothing from the qualifications of any candidate before the people at this time, it is pertinent to say, that, if the Hon. W. H. GRAINGER would consent to permit the use of his name in this connection, he would be called to the Vox Porum.

Decision by the U.S. District Court,

Porter. His Operations on Little River

The Scaboard Likely to be Evacuated.

South Carolina.

Dispatch from Admiral Porter--His Operations on Little River, S. C. WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.-Admiral Porter as sent the following to the Navy Depart-

U. S. S camer Monticello, Of Wilmington Feb. 7.—Sir: I have the honor to report that I entered Little River, S. C., on the night of the 4th and ascended it about eight miles with four loats and fifty men. I landed at a small town in All Saints parish, on Little River. The fown was placed under guard without the knowledge of the inhabitants, and I succeeded in capturing some soldiers arms. I held the place the next day and discovered and destroyed about fifteen thousand dollars' worth of cotton.

I also captured two flats at the mouth of the harbor containing 23 bales of cotton, which had some time since been removed from a blockade runner to lighten her. These we brought off, together with some negroes. The South Carolina planters and all the men whom I met professed to be willing to come back under the old Government, and most of them seemed to be oyal men only awaiting emancipation rom military rule,

On the 6th I sent two boats' crews ashore in Charlotte Inlet, under command of Act-ing Master Pettit. He surprised and routed the rebel force detailed to collect provis ions in that country, capturing six soldiers with their arms and equipments and de-stroying the stores which had been gathered for the enemy at Fort Anderson. The soldiers lately stationed at Charlotte ad been withdraw to assist in the detence of Wilmington. A hundred rebels are still at Lockwood's Ferry. The woods are full of deserters.

Very respectfully, Your obedient servant, N. B. Cusning, Linet. Com. To Admiral Porter, Com. Squadron, Cape Fear river, N. C.

It says Foote represents the Confederacy on the eve of disruption, and the struggle on the part of the rebels is nearly over. He says high military authorities in Richmond admits that the capture of Branchvillenmicompel the evacuation of Charleston, nington, and even Richmond itself. thinks the leaders will endeavor to leav the country, and the campaign on the part of the rebess would descend to gnerrilla lighting. Footo is prepared to issue an ad-dress to the people of the South, arging them to cease lighting, and to give up a contest which is so hopeless, and as no terms but unconditional surrender can be obtained, to promptly accept such terms.

Mr. Foote represents the unpopularity of Davis at the Sonth as the very greatest The people have lost confidence in him The mission of Stephens, Hunter & Co was only a ruse on the part of Davis.

The Richmond Dispatch has an article on the importance of the time to the rebels in the coming military campaign. It calls londly for action, and says it is no time to hold long debates in the cabinet when the ship is within sound of breakers. The Whig has an editorial on the mis-akes of Mr. Blair and the fallacies of the North in regard to peace. It declares there is no real peace feeling in the South except on the basis of independence, and repeats the usual outbursts of defiance to fire the Southern hearts.

The Sentinel ubuses the terms offered by President Lincoln, and says it is impossible to accept them. It makes the usual charge of bad faith, particularly in the exchange of prisoners. It says that as long as the rebels had an excess of prisoners the cartel was observed, but as soon as these circum-

Nominations by the Senate. WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The Senate held exclusively executive session to-day which continued over two hours. There were nearly 1,500 nominations to be acted on mostly of a military character. About 1,300 was in favor of making the bridge at Louisville like that at Steinbenville. He hoped the bill would be recommitted to the Committee on Postoffices and postroads, and properly amended.

Mr. Powell did not believe the bill as it stood would interfere with navigation ou the river.

The yeas and mays were demanded on the motion to recousider, which prevailed by a yote of 18 yeas to 17 mays.

the officency of the state was affined against the odious doetrine of States rights. It was designed to break up a monopoly which could tribute on every passenger between the city of New York and Washington, between the political and commercial capitals of the nation, and the pretensions of the Camden and Amboy Railroad were menacing to the Union itself.

It was a nnisance which should be abated, and a usurpation which should be overthrown.

Mr. Sumner then argued the question of the constitutionality of the measure, holding that under the constitution Congress had the power to regulate commerce between the States, to establish post routes, and to ralse and support armies; under any one of which it could pass the bill under consideration.

Mr. Hale followed Mr. Sumner denying the right of Congress to interfere with the rights of States. As the bill proposed to do it was a blow at the Constitution, which he beyed would not meat the favor of the States.

Mr. Wilson made a lengthy report, fa-toring the appointment of discharged sol-liers and sailors to such civil offices as they may be capable of tilling.

The report was ordered to be printed.

Mr. Wilson made the following report:

The Committee on Military Affairs and the Militia, to whom was referred sundry petitions praying for the enactment of law for the appointment to all inferior of-fices of persons honorably discharged from the military or naval service of the United States who shall have served for the period of three years during the present war, or who shall have suffered permanent disabil-ity while in service, or who shall have been held for one year as prisoners of war, and that the tenure of such office be for life or during good behavior, having considered the same beg leave respectfully to report that, in the opinion of the Committee, it is the imperative duty of the State and National Governments to give the preference for appointments in the various civil offices charged from the military or naval service, or who have suffered permanent disability while in the service, provided they possess the qualifications necessary to properly discharge such duties. The number of civil offices in the various departments of the Government, though large at present, bear but a small proportion to the number of persons who have been honorably serving must of necessity again engage in the various avocations of civil life. While it is therefore the duty of the Government to give the preference to men who have been wounded in the service, it is the sacred duty of bankers, merchants, manufacturers, mechanics and farmers, as well as busine men, in all the avocations of life, to give preference, in all pursuits, to soldiers who have been honorably—discharged from the service of their—country.—The Committee, herefore, present the accompanying reso hitions as expressive of the sense of Congress on the legislation prayed for by the petitioners joint resolution to encourage the
